Fraser Quin

After graduating from Edinburgh University with a PhD in 1999, I embarked on a career in child care and social care, specialising in additional needs. Working in both the private and voluntary sectors has given me an in depth knowledge of business development, finance and strategic planning. My main focus of work has been in disability, child and adult social care, learning disability, and service provision. Through this work, I have gained a thorough understanding of Governance, working with the Care Inspectorate and Care Quality Commission and as a member of Boards in the Third Member of ARK Board since September 2020
